

WORLD ARCHITECTURE

ISSUE NO. 38 US$11.95 UK£10

French Embassy, Singapore 1996
in association with Dubus-Riché of Paris

The project was designed in association with architects Dubus-Riché of Paris, who "see the building as the embodiment in the midst of this city-state of a certain French spirit." Public spaces are centred on the atrium; a transparent lift "transports the personnel and the visitors through an interior world of teak, honey-tinted wood and copper and pale gold hues."
